BLUE LETTER

1974

Bill,

I know this may seem rather crass but it is nonetheless genuine of me to write in your book since you are of an aloof intellectual nature and therefore I would assume you can comprehend my human and emotional nature To say something Profound and also that you might remember or think of me as you go through life. The Best of life to you. And Now/ For Something Profound: Grow old along with me
The best is yet to be.

an afficionado of Folk Music
and also an ardent admirer
of you,

always a friend
when needed

BLUE LIGHTER

1974

TO

MR. EDWARD LOGUE

Those who have known Mr. Logue don't need to be told that he gives all of himself to the people with whom he comes in contact. He accepts gracefully the fulfillment of victory and the disappointment of defeat. He is kind, dedicated, and patient; one of those rare people who is not envious; who loves and believes in others.

It is with affection that we dedicate the 1974 Blue Letter to Mr. Edward Logue.

Dreams—so they say
Are for the fools and they let them drift away.
Peace—like the silent dove
Should be flyin' but it's just begun
Like Columbus in the olden days
We must gather all our courage
Sail our ships out on the open sea
Cast away our fears and all the years will come and go.
And take us up always up
We may never pass this way again.

Seals and Crofts

But now old friends are acting strange,
they shake their heads, they say I've changed
But something's lost and something's changed
in living every day.
Joni Mitchell

ROACH

FIGHT

I remember a time when our fears could be named and courage meant not refusing dares.
I remember when we took such care
to step never on the cracks, no only in the squares.
It was so easy then
never making any plans.
It was so easy then holding hands,
just holding hands.
Carly Simon

Faces come and faces go
in circular rotation
But something yearns
within to grow.
And who knows what
it is that we might find if we try.

IN MEMORY OF JAMES E. KELLEY

The fully human person is in deep and meaningful contact with the world outside of him.
He not only listens to himself, but to the voices of his world. The breadth of his own individual experience is infinitely multiplied through a sensitive empathy with others. He suffers with the suffering, rejoices with the joyful. He is born again in every Springtime, feels the impact of the great mysteries of life: birth, growth, love, suffering, death. His heart skips along with the "young lovers," and he knows something of the exhilaration that is in them. He also knows the ghetto's philosophy of despair, the loneliness of suffering without relief, and the bell never tolls without tolling in some strange way for him.

John Powell, S.J.

Why what have you thought
of yourself?
Is it you then that thought
yourself less?
Is it you that thought the President greater than you?
Or the rich better off
than you?
Or the educated wiser
than you?

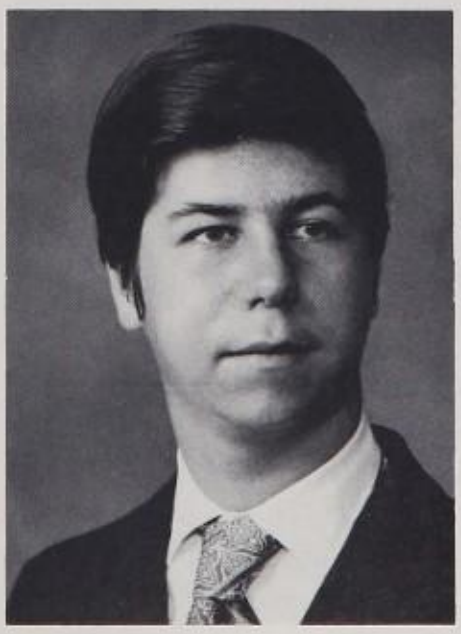
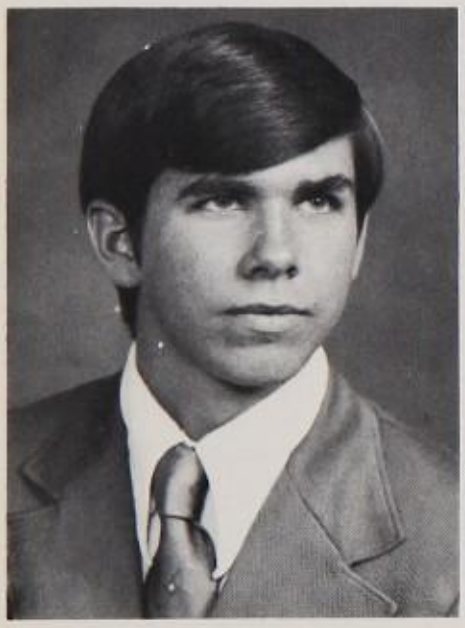
" . . . we sit alone, and, weary of work, we try to read but the book falls from our hand. Memories crowd upon us. One regrets the past but one would not begin life anew, one is too weary.
—Peter Ilyitch Tschaikowsky



Jonathan Wasser
Good, Better, Best,
Never let it rest
'Til your good is better
And your better is Best!
Anonymous

Richard Wenk

The past, recalled, is a flowering cornucopia of visions, sounds, aromas, emotions, gaieties, terrors, faces, and places. The ability to relive those parts of life that have been significant is a gift equal to life itself . . . Here's looking at it!

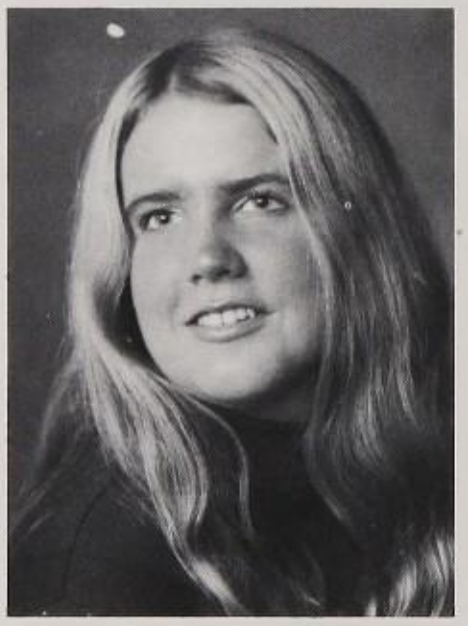


Bruce Wernik

Knowledge is a comfortable and necessary retreat for us in advanced age, and if we do not plant it while we are young, it will give us no shade when we grow old.

Lord Chesterfield

Anne Wetzel



Valerie Lee Whitehill

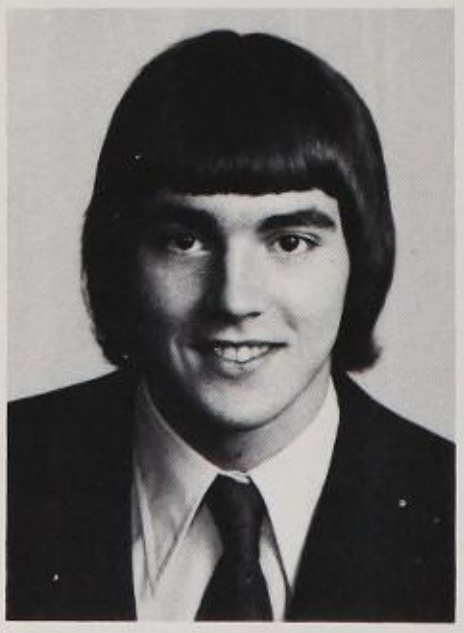
Elliott Wiser

People should be taught what is, not what should be. All my humor is based on despair. If the whole world were tranquil, without disease and violence, I'd be standing in the breadline–right back of J. Edgar Hoover.

Lenny Bruce



Edward Yuhasz

Wanda Zaremba

Richard Zelinack

Laura E. Zenev

"the earth is all of our mother and the sun is all of our father.
all life comes from the divine interaction of sun and earth.
We are the children of their eternal passion."
